New York, 9 Other States Oppose Changes in U. S. Aid

Funeral Viewed As Probe Protest

About One-Third of Police Force Marches in Flynn Procession

New York, July 21 (AP)—An estimated one-third of the city police department, headed by Mayor William O'Dwyer and high police officials, today marched in the funeral procession of Capt. John G. Flynn, who killed himself with his pistol Sunday.

Officials said it probably was the largest police funeral in the history of the city. It was considered a police silent protest to methods used in the Brooklyn gambling investigation, despite a note from Flynn that he death had no connection with the inquiry. Capt. Flynn had been before the grand jury.

The police department band, playing a dirge, led the procession from Rego Park, Queens, funeral home to the Church of the Ascension, for a requiem high Mass.

Approximately 5,000 uniformed police followed the band, and behind them were about 1,200 detectives in plain clothes. Six police department chaplains walked directly in front of the hearse.

As the procession started, Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien and Chief Inspector August E. Felt, followed by all the deputy police commissioners on duty and about 75 per cent of the higher echelons of the department marched behind the hearse. Every police organization was represented and each had its flag in the procession.

The cortege had moved only a short distance when Mayor O'Dwyer arrived and took his place between Commissioner O'Brien and Chief Inspector Felt.

The family, including Flynn's widow, and two of their three children, followed in autos.

Hundreds of persons lined the five blocks of the line of march.

'Undesirable' Features Will Be Fought; Sees Threat to Industry

Albany, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—New York and nine other northeastern states have joined forces to oppose what they call "undesirable changes" in the federal highway aid program.

Berttram D. Tallamy, state public works chief, announced the action today.

He declared that one proposal, if enacted, would cut New York's share of federal aid from $6,141,000 to $3,303,000.

He said a 10-state bloc of highway officials would fight legislation now before Congress. Tallamy termed the proposals "a serious threat to the more populous and highly industrialized states."

Plans were mapped at a recent meeting in New York city at which Tallamy was elected chairman of the group.

Other states represented: Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

The controversial bills would provide federal highway aid appropriations for the next two fiscal years.

Tallamy said a House version would provide $70,000,000 for main interstate highways, apportioned to the states on the basis of population.

He contended that this method of allocation was "highly desirable because construction of main trunk highways is most urgently needed where population, industry and commerce are most highly concentrated."

He voiced strong opposition to a proposed amendment to the Senate bill which he said would distribute the money on the basis of population.

Bitter Senate Row Results From Debate on Red Charges

Washington, July 21 (AP)—Fired by a bitter shouting row which nearly started a fist fight, the Senate faced the prospect today of more wretched debate on the Communist charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The line-up again: Republicans versus Democrats.

That's the way it was for nearly six hours yesterday as the Democrats smashed down three Republican attempts to repudiate a Democratic report labelling McCarthy's Communists "a fraud and a hoax."

A furious scrap also was highlighted by:

1. A close-to-the-bows argument between Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican leader, and the chief counsel of a Democratic subcommittee—the group which investigated McCarthy's charges.

2. An unprecedented and unsuccessful effort to play a phonograph in the Senate.

3. Two separate orders compelling

Red Attack Slows After City Falls

Lack of Tanks Believed Reason for Failure of North Koreans to Go After Yanks

Rail Yards Hit Movements From Seoul to South Slowed by B-29 Damage

Tokyo, July 21 (AP)—America's battered 24th Division dug into new defense positions today as North Korea's Red horde, reluctant to move without tanks, failed to follow up its victory at flanking Taejon.

Superior numbers of Communist tanks, infantrymen and guerrillas won blazing Taejon early today, after two days of fierce and costly attack.

But that victory cost them at least 12 tanks—all knocked out by the G.I.s' new 35 inch rocket launcher—and others damaged.

Late this afternoon, they had failed to launch an expected attack on strong new U. S. defense positions in hills four miles southeast of Taejon. Apparently, said Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore from a command post in Korea, the Reds "are without tanks now" and are awaiting new armor.

This morning, less than 12 hours after the former U. S. headquarters city was given up, American artillery was trained on mountains where bands of Reds were reported infiltrating.

Presumably, the Reds were beginning to repeat their familiar pattern: Strike around the flank of the American front at supporting positions in the rear.

However, Moore reported, no new Red attack had been launched by late afternoon.

Will Take Time

It will take time, he said, for the Reds to bring in new armor. The Americans destroyed bridges, tunnels, rail lines and highways as they withdrew.

And the Far East air forces, in a communique, indicated new tanks may require some time getting to the Taejon area. It said a 500 ton B-29 bombing of Seoul Sunday had damaged rail yards and lines so heavily as to "prevent rail movements to the southern battle lines for some time."

Balancing the withdrawal, Allied naval guns destroyed the Communist communications center of Yongdok on the east coast, 25 miles north of the beachhead.

Russians Are on 'Good Behavior' For Communist Rally in Berlin

Dean Safety Worries His Staff Group

An American Command Post in Korea, July 21 (AP)—Fellow officers today held firm hope that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, unreported nearly 24 hours in the thick of the Taejon fighting, "will get out."

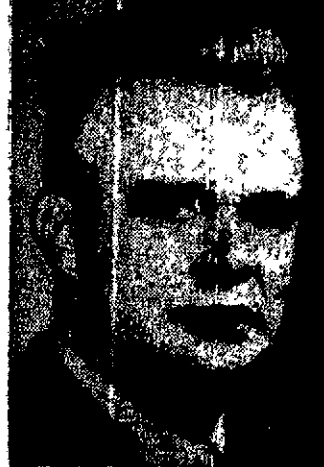

But fear for his safety grew by the hour. The front-line fighting commander of the U. S. Twenty-Fourth Infantry Division was last reported leading a bazooka team fighting off Red tanks.

Dean's staff tried to reassure themselves with this declaration: "The general can take care of himself. He may have to walk, but he'll get out."

The last report of Dean came from a corporal. He said he saw the general passing ammunition to a bazooka team and directing fire in Taejon. That was several hours before the city fell at midnight Thursday before the blazing tanks of the North Korean Communists.

Said Cpl. Ralph Vargason of Newark Valley, N. Y.: "All of our regular bazooka teams were so busy General Dean took a couple of men downtown and went after two tanks. I saw him passing ammunition to the men and directing fire."

May Be Missing

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry Division on the Korean front, has been unofficially reported as missing in action. The army said it is checking to determine his whereabouts. (NEA Telephoto)

Three Significant Items Are Noted by West Observers; Guard Is Posted

Berlin, July 21 (AP)—The Russians appeared today to be putting in a "good behavior" front for this week's Communist rally, being attended by high Communist members from far and wide.

Allied and West German officials noted:

1. Autobahn traffic at Helmstedt is being let through to Berlin and toward the west at a stepped-up pace. Slow-down tactics imposed last week have been stopped.

2. East German officials agreed today on a "basis for discussion" with West Berlin on resumption of electricity power, cut off July 1.

3. The Russians notified the air safety center in advance of all fighter plane flights between Dailgow and Brandenburg, over the western edges of Berlin last night. Lately some flights have been observed that were not posted in the four-power center.

Meanwhile the Socialist Unity (Communist) party rally entered its second day without any clue to the purpose behind the visit of the highest-ranking Communists ever to visit Berlin.

Caucus Is Attended

The delegates from the Communist countries attended the party caucus this morning only as observers. The east Berlin controlled press concentrated its attention on the German party activities without hinting at any major changes on international questions such as the Korean War or the Thurn Yugo-Slav Tito problem.

The Communist members are virtually inaccessible, guarded by East German "people police" as they move from hotel to party meetings and back.

The East Government made fanfare out of the official opening of the first postwar steel furnace in Brandenburg at the Siemens-Martin plant. Officials reported to the party rally the furnace would put out steel "for peace."

Capacity Not Disclosed

The capacity was not disclosed. Three more furnaces are to be built, Minister for Industry Fritz Selbmann said, with the last one being activated December 21, Stalin's birthday.

The Communist "bosses" yesterday heard East Germany's Communist Premier tell a party rally that his people would fight beside Russia in any new world war.

A portrait of North Korea's premier Kim Il Sen—along with those of Premier Stalin and China's Red Chief Mao Tse-tung—hung over the rostrum as President Wilhelm Pieck made his pledge to 4,000 Communist faithful.

Seated on the platform were M. A. Suslov, Moscow's Communist leader, Jacques Duclos of France, Palmiro Togliatti of Italy, and delegates from Soviet satellites and Communist China.

Pieck said his party, though not a member of the Cominform, is "travelling the same road."

"The German people will fight on the side of the Soviet Union in any war involving Russia or the U. S. atomic arsenal, which is true of the one steel plant in North Korea."

For such targets as these, conventional high explosive and incendiary bombs and ship guns are apparently considered adequate.

Should some bombs be withdrawn from the arsenal and used anyway?

That raises the question of how many bombs are available. There never has been any announcement, only indications and unofficial guesses.

One of these came from Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who was director of the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic bomb project.

Service Is Extended Full Year

Enlistment Expiration Will Be Date to Add Time; House Backs Extender

'Grounds' Sound

Vinson Sees Measure on Extensions on Solid Footing

Washington, July 21 (AP)—Congressional armed services committees today cleared for Senate and House action legislation to lift the ceilings on size of the armed forces and extend all enlistments for one year.

Senator Tydings (D-Md.) told a reporter he would try to get both bills before the Senate as soon as possible.

"We might even be able to act today," he added, although this appeared unlikely.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Committee said he would call the bills up for consideration on the floor next Tuesday.

Washington, July 21 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee voted unanimously today to take all restrictions off the size of the armed forces and lengthen all enlistments one year.

The House Armed Services Committee also voted, 18-1, to keep all enlisted personnel in service for a year after their enlistments expire. It still was considering the request of President Truman to lift ceilings on size of the armed forces.

Rep. Towse (R-N.J.) cast the only vote against extending enlistments.

Agreed to Strike It Out

In taking the action on the two bills, the Senate committee also agreed to strike out of one of them a restriction that the strength of the regular marine corps shall not exceed 20 per cent of the authorized size of the regular navy. Senator Russell (D-Ga.) told his colleagues that under present world conditions he does not believe the United States can have too many marines. The marines are trained for amphibious landings.

The committee action would suspend indefinitely present limitations which fix the total strength of the armed forces at 2,003,982 men.

The quick action came after navy, army and air force officers said they probably would lose 183,000 trained fighting men during the next year through expiration of voluntary enlistments.

Legislation Amended

The Senate committee amended the legislation to make it apply also to national guardsmen and reserves when called to active duty.

As approved by the Senate group, President Truman could extend for one year the terms of volunteers now in the army, air force, navy and marines until next July 9.

That is when the present draft or Selective Service Act expires, under which men from 19 through 25 can be called for 21 months duty.

The two committees acted almost simultaneously in freezing the hitches of enlisted personnel. Before the House group voted, Towse suggested that action be delayed until the committee has received "accurate and full information" about the military situation.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the committee was on "sound grounds" in approving the bill.

Towse replied that he wanted to "know about it" before voting.

Vinson said he plans to call up the bills to extend enlistments for a year next Tuesday.

The Marine Corps has called up all the ground forces in its organized reserve—amounting to some 47,000 officers and men.

The navy said several of its air reserve units, numbering about 9,000 officers and 30,000 men, are going on active duty.

The army alerted combat troops in each of the six continental areas for movement to the Far East.

The air force indicated it might

Food Report Due, Will Tell Public No Shortage Seen

Assurances Slow Down Heavy Sugar Buying, Other Items; Price Gains Hit

Washington, July 21 (AP)—Disturbed by increases in prices and evidence of consumer hoarding, the government is working on a report to convince the public that it need not fear food shortages.

The report, being drafted by the Agriculture Department, will be made public Saturday night.

Repeated assurances by President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that food supplies are plentiful were said by officials to have slowed down, but not stopped, the heavy consumer buying of sugar, canned goods and other non-perishable foods that started with the Korean War.

Officials hoped that a detailed report, giving statistical information on supplies and production prospects of various major food items, would serve as a clincher to their argument that there is no justification for hoarding or for price increases.

The report is being prepared by the department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics and will take into account the possible effects of the war and increased military spending on the market for food and farm products.

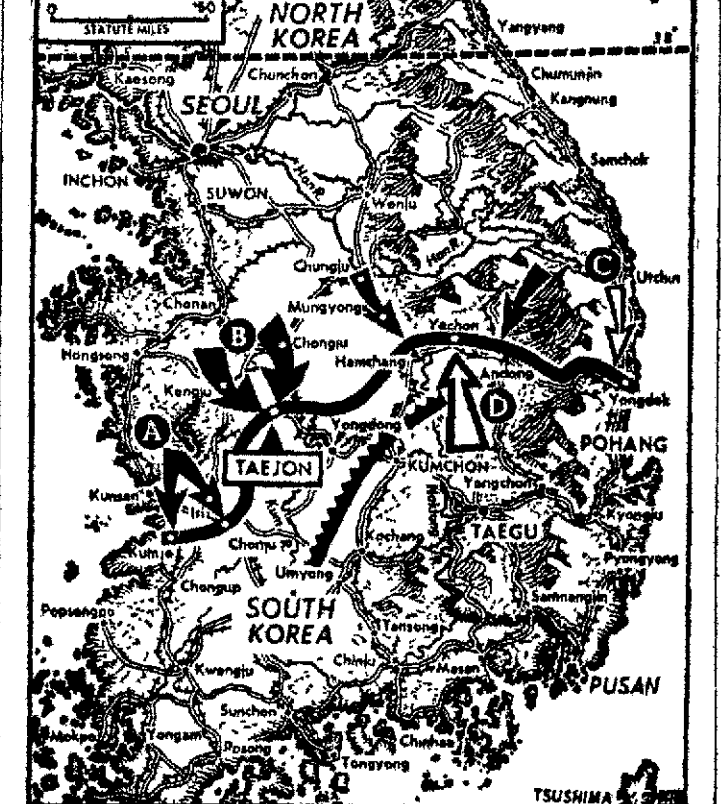

It is expected to say that, on the basis of present conditions, there is no valid reason for a higher general level of food prices during the next six months.

Prices of some foods, it will say, should go down in the fall—particularly meats. Sloughing supplies of meat animals will increase from the normal low levels of the summer to put a much larger supply of meats in butcher shops.

General Spotted Tank

"The general spotted a tank in a yard and called me over," Vessels said. Under Dean's direction, he moved his launcher to the

Communists Gain at Three Points

North Korean Communist troops in the west drove south (A) to take Kumje and Chonju, fought a blazing battle (B) with elements of the U. S. 24th Division in the key base city of Taejon and on the east coast moved south (C) to capture Yongdok. In the central sector a counter attack by defenders of South Korea (D) regained Yechon and blunted moves against Gijochang and Andong. Jagged line may become new defense position of U. S. and South Korean forces.

Armed Forces See Little Use For Atomic Bomb in Korea

Washington, July 21 (AP)—The armed forces, for purely military reasons, take a dim view of suggestions that use of the atomic bomb might end the Korean war quickly.

Military officials question whether the A-bomb could produce results in Korea—where there are few good targets for a mass destruction weapon—sufficient to justify dipping into the U. S. atomic arsenal, which is necessarily limited in size.

The Korean fighting is essentially a battle between ground armies, although with air support—and, in the case of our side, with naval support.

The A-bomb could conceivably be used against ground forces. But to make profitable such use of a weapon so expensive in terms of material, production man-hours and money would require that there be thousands or tens of thousands of troops concentrated in an area a mile or less in radius. Polio President's Daughter Afflicted

Richmond, Va., July 21 (AP)—The daughter of Basil O'Connor, president of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, is in a hospital undergoing treatment for the disease.

She is Mrs. Sidney Culver, 20, and mother of five. Mrs. Culver was brought by ambulance here yesterday afternoon from her Clarke county home in northern Virginia. A definite diagnosis of polio was made last night.

Mrs. Culver was examined by Dr. Lee Sutton, the polio specialist of the Medical College of Virginia. Virginia has not had an exceptional number of cases thus far this year except in one southwest county, Wythe, lying in a mountainous, cattle raising area. There have been 41 cases in that county, including five deaths. The total cases for the state stand at 81 for 1950.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIRAUT, JR.
In Concert Sunday

Woodstock, July 21—Melvin Ritter, noted young violinist, will return to the Maverick concert stage Sunday afternoon and will play the Beethoven Trio, Opus 70, No. 1, with Cynthia Eddy, cellist, and Inez Carroll.

Ritter to Return To Concert Stage

Woodstock, July 21—Members of the Maverick concert audience will again have the privilege of hearing Melvin Ritter, noted young violinist who opened the season at the Maverick. This Sunday he will play the Beethoven Trio, Opus 70, No. 1, with Cynthia Eddy, cellist, and Inez Carroll, both well-known and always popular with Woodstock audiences.

Miss Eddy and Miss Carroll will play the Brahms Sonata, Opus 99, for cello and piano and there will be an exhibition of paintings by Ben Johnson.

During the winter Ritter is head of the violin department at the University of Tampa, Tampa, Fla. In World War 2 he was solo violinist with a traveling Special Service platoon and gave over 400 performances through France, Germany, Luxembourg and Belgium. Following his discharge from the service he gave recitals throughout the east, middlewest and southwest under the auspices of the National Music League, Inc. of New York.

Ritter made his debut recital at Town Hall in October, 1947, presented a second recital in December 1949 and is scheduled to appear in his forthcoming concert at Town Hall on October 13, 1950.

Following his 1947 recital Noel Straus wrote in the New York Times issue of October 23: "Mr. Ritter is still at the beginning of his career, which judging from his playing yesterday, promises to be of importance. His performance at his local debut at once impressed by their musicality, sweep and intelligence. There was an unusual degree of fervor and fire in his work, while his interpretations had style and nobility as well as innate imagination and poetry."

Riding Club Names Officers for Year

Woodstock, July 21—At the annual meeting of the Woodstock Riding Club the following board of directors were elected: Virgil Van Wagonen, Freilan Van DeBogart, Leon Smith, Griffin Herrick, Mrs. Dorothy Adams, Mrs. Bea Doremus and Mrs. Eleanor Muller. Officers elected were: Freilan Van DeBogart, president; Griffin Herrick, vice president; Eleanor Muller, secretary; Bea Doremus, treasurer. The tellers were Jean Cutler and Ada Herrick.

At a meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Ernest Muller, the following committee chairman were chosen: Mrs. Ada Herrick, membership; Samuel Adams, of Saugerties, publicity; Griffin Herrick, grounds committee; Virgil Van Wagonen, trails and activity; Leon Smith, horse show committee; Mrs. Louise Van Wagonen, entertainment; Leon Smith and Griffin Herrick, finance committee; Harold Van Vliet, Kingston, educational chairman; Eleanor Muller, Woodstock, Mrs. Leon Smith, Saugerties and Mrs. Sarah Dietz, Kingston, sick committee.

The Riding Club will hold a hay ride and picnic to Asbury, July 27. The group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Wagonen at 6:30 p. m.

The club has already been made for the horse show next year which will again be under the direction of the American Horse Show Association. Members also will hold a field day the first Sunday after Labor Day.

The next meeting of the Riding Club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Wagonen Wednesday, August 16.

'Menagerie' Opens With Fine Acting

Woodstock, July 21—Beautiful acting and fine direction have combined to sustain the tender, heartbreaking theme of "The Glass Menagerie" which was presented Thursday night by the Loft Players at the Maverick Theatre. It is a play that hurts and the tenuous melancholy thread of memory strains and loosens again and again until it finally breaks amidst the shattered illusions of the little family.

The famous Tennessee Williams drama is so deeply thoughtful that not until long after the curtains have closed upon the final despairing scene do the nuances and meanings begin to flood to the surface. The characters appear to be simple yet are basically complex. Claire Michaels is excellent as the mother Amanda Wingfield wrenched back and forth between her two worlds, one moment reliving the past as a vapid southern belle recalling the endless procession of "gentleman callers," the next moment trying to cope with the bitter, hopeless problems of the present. Tender and dreaming or shrewish and nagging, foolish and scheming she is yet enabled by her unswerving purpose, waging a solitary battle for the success and happiness of her two children.

As the disappointed son, basically kind but yearning for the adventure for which his father had left them, Edward Mann is convincing with an evenly paced and controlled performance. Trapped in a "two by four situation" in the desperate struggle for mere existence in the precarious "thirties" only the moans and the dance halls offer solace and finally even they fail.

Emile Stevens handles the part of the shy, frightened sister, Laura so deftly that she is at once a pathetic and appealing woman and yet so exasperating that one was tempted at times to go up on stage and shake the poor girl. Although hesitant and understanding but vaguely the words of the "gentleman caller" Jim, played with ease and decisiveness by Ernie Jackson, one felt regardless of the final dejected note that given time Laura would emerge from her self-made prison.

Directed skillfully by Jose Quintero, "The Glass Menagerie" is a somber excursion into memory in which the glimmer of hope is as illusive and fragile as the tiny glass animals in Laura's collection.

Technically, the production is, as is always with the Loft Players, an achievement augmenting the mood of the play.

Martin Schutze Dies; Noted Writer, Poet

Woodstock, July 21 — Martin Schutze, noted writer and poet, died in Woodstock, July 19. The author of two volumes of poetry, two poetic dramas, he had also written numerous essays and studies in the field of 18th and 19th century German literature, particularly on the significance of Johann Gottfried Herder on the history of 18th century thought. His "Academic Illusions" in the Field of Letters and the Arts, published in 1933, was the first of a series planned to present a new approach to the understanding of letters and the arts. At the time of his death he had just completed in manuscript a work which he called "Rationality, Personality, Reality," which represents his final philosophy.

Born in Mecklenburg, Germany, December 21, 1886, Schutze studied law at the Universities of Rostock and Freiburg. He came to America in 1891 and received his Ph.D. in German, English, and Norse literatures from the University of Pennsylvania in 1899. After teaching for one year at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., he joined the faculty of the University of Chicago in 1901, where he held the rank of Professor of German Literature and Philosophy until his retirement in 1933.

He was a charter member of the American Association of University Professors, a member of the Modern Language Association of America, honorary corresponding member of the German Academy in Munich and corresponding member of the Schiller Academy, Munich.

During the past twelve years Schutze made his home in Woodstock where he had intermittently lived since 1902, the year of the founding of the artists' colony, of which his first wife, Eve Lawrence Watson, was a member until her death in 1935. He is survived by his wife, Frieda Bachmann Schutze.

A memorial service at 12:30 p. m. will be held Sunday.

Hershey Says U. S. Needs 7,000,000

Cincinnati, July 21 (AP)—The director of selective service says the United States has got to find "7,000,000 men of critical skill and the capacity to fight."

Gen. Lewis B. Hershey warned against urging draft boards to defer men because of their skills, claiming "If we don't find them (the 7,000,000 men), you won't have any industry anyway."

Hershey spoke at a luncheon here yesterday.

He explained there are 10,600,000 men between 18 and 27 and that, of these, 7,600,000 are classified, with 1,200,000 classified 1-A. He added that 1,200,000 have not been classified because they are 18-year-olds, 2,700,000 are veterans, 442,000 have dependents, 538,000 are 4-F (failing to meet armed service standards), 133,000 are in farming and 133,000 are in the reserves.

Dog Bite, Argument

Joseph Sarra, 13, Marlborough, was bitten Thursday afternoon by a mongrel collie dog on Route 9W, Marlborough. The boy was treated by the family physician. Trooper Lucas was summoned and reported the dog was owned by Margaret Kaupio of Marlborough. Following the incident, the trooper's report, an argument ensued and as a result George Fuhrmann, Marlborough, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct for using vile language. He was taken before Justice Frederick Woolsey, Jr. of Marlborough and fined $10 imposed. Payment of the fine was suspended. The boy was bitten on the right thigh, the report stated.

Britain Is Firm In Backing U.N. on Korea Withdrawal

London, July 21 (AP) — Great Britain stood firm last night behind the United Nations Security Council demand for a withdrawal of North Koreans to their own territory as a first step toward peace in Korea.

Prime Minister Attlee told Commons his government has rejected a Russian proposal that the North Korean withdrawal be discussed in a Security Council on which Communist China would replace the Nationalists.

(In Moscow British Ambassador Sir David Kelly delivered the British answer to the Russian proposal to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko last night.)

Emphasizing that Anglo-Soviet talks on Korea, which began June 29, were stalemated but not ended, Attlee reaffirmed that a Korean peace depended on the North Koreans returning north of the 38th parallel.

He told Commons Britain would try to "match the high purpose and resolve" he said President Truman had showed in asking Congress for more money and power to fight communism.

"The British People," he declared, "are engaged in a hard struggle for economic recovery and British resources are still strained. Nevertheless the government will consider what can be done to match the high purpose and resolve to which Mr. Truman has given expression."

Informants said Britain's main effort was certain to center on a speedup of rearmament.

Station Wagon Stolen

A 1941 Ford station wagon bearing license 57382 N. Y., was reported stolen from the trailer parking lot on the Ontario Trail just across the Washington avenue viaduct some time between midnight and 6:30 o'clock this morning. The station wagon has natural wood panels with maroon striping. The car was reported missing early this morning and state police and other officials were notified of the theft. The vehicle belonged to Margaret Grant.

Temperature Is 52

The area was hit with a mid-summer chill today as the mercury hit 52 degrees during the early hours this morning. This was the lowest this month and probably one of the coolest July days on record. It was five degrees cooler than the previous day and followed a noon high of 71 degrees yesterday at 12:30 p. m. It also was the lowest temperature recorded at the city engineer's office since June 10.

Thirsty, Hungry Girls Cost Him His $4,200

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—A 19-year-old New Jersey youth who came to Chicago with $4,200 two weeks ago was in jail and broke today and blamed his financial conditions on hungry, thirsty blondes.

"Everywhere I went," said Robert E. Dernbach, Jr., of North Bergen, N. J., "I ran into a blonde."

"The blondes wanted champagne and the champagne called for steak dinners—"

Dernbach was in Boys Court yesterday on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper—a $73 bill at the Morrison Hotel. A hearing was set for July 26.

Police said Dernbach, an apprentice steamfitter, related he had withdrawn $3,000 from his bank account, took his father's car—which he later sold for $1,200—and came to Chicago. Police said New Jersey police want Dernbach on a charge of theft of the car.

G.E. Profits, 6 Months, Are $77,445,000

Schenectady, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—The General Electric Company's net profit for the first six months of this year soared to $77,445,000, a 66 percent boost over the same 1949 period, and a new record for a first half-year.

Announcing this last night G.E. President Charles E. Wilson said the company and its consolidated affiliates had record net sales of $881,080,000 from January 1 through June 30 this year. The total topped by 10 per cent the previous all-time high of $801,757,000 set in corresponding 1949 period.

The record sales and earnings brought good news to company stockholders. G.E. said a dividend of 60 cents a share of common stock would be paid July 25 for the second quarter of this year. This brings the total dividend for the six months to $1.20 a share. A dividend of $1 was paid for the same 1949 period.

The 1950 half-year earnings were equal to 8.8 cents on each dollar of sales and $1.61 per share of common stock.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Tokyo, (AP)—The Korean war somehow seems almost as far away from Tokyo as it does New York or Washington.

This is odd considering that a jet plane can fly from here to the warfront in about the time it takes a man to smoke a 10-cent cigar.

But an air of solid confidence has replaced the tension that prevailed in the first weeks of fighting here in the Pentagon.

The turning point was the landing of a fresh American division on the Eastern Korean coast above the vital Port of Pusan. There is a feeling that the United Nations forces now can not only hold a bridgehead—they may even shortly undertake offensive action of at least limited nature.

And there even is a hope that the North Koreans—faced by powerful ground troops and lashed by superior air and sea forces—may figure they have lost initiative and begin a slow withdrawal back beyond the shelter of the 38th parallel.

No Hysteria Shows

There is complete absence of hysteria or hurry around Supreme Headquarters here. Everyone goes calmly about his duties, including women in clerical posts whose husbands are fighting in Korea.

"If you see my old man over there tell him hello for me—and that everything's all right," smiled one wife who typed out my accreditation papers.

Many headquarters echelons are still taking off Wednesday and Saturday afternoons as well as Sundays—just as they did before the emergency. But they seem to be getting done everything that can be done at their level. It is always the frontline troops that have to work a seven-day week.

It is an old and unreal war in many respects. It is quite possible for a soldier to be wounded in Korea before lunch and to eat dinner that same night in a first class army hospital in Japan, assured of finest medical care.

"Commuters' War"

Some fliers call it "a commuters' war." They can return from missions over Korea in time to join their wives and friends in a game of canasta. But of course they don't all get back to that hospital or that canasta game. It is still a war.

It has hit home particularly hard among and-eyed American evacuees from Korea, who had to flee and leave behind all personal belongings except those they could carry.

Many lost their passports and it has been a tremendous task for American State Department officials to check their identity, issue new credentials and help arrange passage home.

"Plight of some of these people is really desperate," said John Baldrige, E.C.A. official and Iowa's weekly newspaper publisher. "Some are stranded without funds. A number of E.C.A. employees have resigned posts, because they no longer want to return to Korea even after order is restored. And they have no job in the United States to go back to."

Most rueful evacuee I met was one who said he had to abandon $7,000 worth of household goods in Seoul—and that didn't include cost of his swimming pool.

"That sounds like a lot of money," he said. "But did you ever figure out what it costs to clothe a family and furnish a house—from safety pins to a refrigerator? What I want to know is how and when I am going to get that $7,000 back? It took four years to settle most of the claims from the last war."

Man's Body Taken From Lake Taghkanic

Hudson, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—The body of Henry G. Van Steen was recovered yesterday from Lake Taghkanic, where he was drowned while swimming Tuesday.

The 53-year-old man disappeared after jumping from a boat. State police dragging the lake found his body.

Van Steen moved here about two years ago from Astoria. He was a former fireman for the New York City Board of Education.

First Negro Member

New York, July 21 (AP)—The executive committee of the New York State Republican committee got its first Negro member yesterday. State Committee Chairman William L. Pfeiffer announced the appointment of Julius J. Adams, 49-year-old Negro author and newspaperman. Adams is associate editor of the Amsterdam News, Negro weekly newspaper here. The appointment was in line with a recent decision to increase the party's state executive committee from 27 to 35 members. The other new members have not been selected yet.

Adams was a working newspaperman on the presidential campaign train of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1944 and 1948.

F.B.I. Puts Auto Ring Out; Supplied Cars to 'Order'

New York, July 21 (AP)—The F.B.I. says it has put out of business an auto theft ring which supplied its "customers" with the particular kinds of cars they wanted.

Five men were arrested, two here and three in Savannah, Ga., the F.B.I. said yesterday.

The bureau said more than 50 automobiles were stolen here during the past year, resulting in a loss to owners of more than $100,000.

The ring had "salesmen," the F.B.I. said, who took "orders" on the east coast for desired models, while other gang members stole them.

The average selling price was $900 per car, bringing a "profit" to the ring of about $45,000 for the year, the F.B.I. said.

The F.B.I. added that the gang also forged applications for automobile registrations and after receiving a registration certificate, would snatch a car to conform with the information on the certificate.

Then the motor numbers were changed to conform with the numbers on the certificates. Those arrested here were identified by the F.B.I. as Alfred Diaz, 23, of Manhattan, the alleged "brains" of the outfit; and Ralph Peplin, 25, of Montreal, Canada.

Seized in Savannah, the bureau said, were Charles Daniel Mulloy, 20, of Bradenton, Fla.; Francis Thomas Grills, 24, of Sidney, Australia; and Lawrence O'Connor, 24, of Auckland, New Zealand.

If convicted, the men each face penalties of five years in jail or a $5,000 fine.

Four Treated for Polio

Belmont, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Four children of Edward V. Loughlin, former Tammany Hall Democratic leader, in New York city, have been treated in the past 10 days for poliomyelitis, the family said yesterday. Lawrence, 3, and Thomas, 4, are still in St. Charles Hospital at Port Jefferson, N. Y. Maurine, 9, and Mona, 10, were taken home today after being pronounced out of danger. The Loughlins have eight children.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE... with... MAJOR HOOPLE

ROLLER SKATES WOULD BE HANDY NOW

BABSON on BUSINESS

New York City, July 21—Every two months, at least, I come to New York to check over the outlook with a few very influential and well-informed people whose names readers would recognize. This is a review of their unanimous opinions at the moment.

These men insist that neither the United States nor Russia can afford a World War III at the present time. It certainly would result in destroying some of the larger cities of both nations and millions of innocent people. To prevent this we must gradually by infiltration extend our influence by appeasing, compromising or scaring Southern Asia and Western Europe into stopping the Communists. Added to this we must keep our own people happy by providing full employment.

At first thought this seems a cowardly position for us to take, but it is believed that Russia also is anxious to prevent war and is willing to compromise to keep the peace. For instance, the United States might get out of Korea, while Russia might get out of Berlin and East Germany. A divided Korea or Germany would always be a tinder box for War. Russia would not suffer from atomic bombing as much as the United States; but the thought of the new H-Bombs which can be used by artillery against her armies if they attempt to overrun Europe, makes Stalin hesitate. Both sides may soon be looking for a "face-saving" way out.

More Inflation Inevitable
The high level of U. S. production should continue as long as the Cold War lasts. When this comes to an end, either by a Hot War or by Peace, then will be the time for an economic crash. Even then a period of unemployment could be postponed further. Assuming people then stopped buying autos and the employees of the automobile companies are thrown out of work, the New York stock market would be a disaster. The government would loan people money to buy automobiles on ten year payments and at a low rate of interest. Even now congressmen are asking "Why is not the government authorized to loan money to buy furniture as to buy homes?" But, although the effects of Newton's Law of Action and Reaction may be postponed, the law cannot be repealed. Trouble is coming someday.

I asked, if under these conditions the automobile companies would be able to make money for their stockholders? To this my friends answered, "Yes, because the taxes which the federal government collects are dependent upon these auto companies and, in fact, all other companies paying dividends." Of course, such a "stop-gap" program requires continued high taxes, more borrowing and more inflation, war or no war. Such will then be all the more necessary because import duties will gradually decrease. World peace ultimately requires "free trade." Furthermore, the government will someday not be collecting in part payment so much as it does now. When that happens mortgages and other debts of individuals will have to be extended and increased by the government.

Russia Does Not Need War
To repeat: The cold war will be continued until either a hot war or peace after which mass unemployment can be prevented only by the U. S. Government adopting a more or less socialistic program. Hence, Stalin figures that if he is patient he is bound to reach his goal in the end, namely, the spread of communism throughout the world. As one New York banker expressed it, "The market may have one more big whirl upward, but I fear that large investors are becoming 'like sheep being lead to the slaughter' through destruction of property, or high taxes or inflation."

In the meantime, the U. S. will require vast sums: (1) For defense and especially for the removal of basic industries from our big cities; (2) For subsidizing consumers purchasing power to prevent unemployment in the U. S.; (3) To bribe Europe and other nations to keep out communism and (4) To help out domestic manufacturers facing destructive foreign competition due to the absolute necessity of reducing tariffs.

Suggestions to Investors
Stocks to Avoid: Those of companies with most of their assets in big cities; those having a high proportion of labor expense and thus very subject to labor pressure; and those which will suffer from foreign competition and imported goods. Stocks to Buy: Those of companies which will profit from the great building dispersion and decentralization program in moving industries out of the big cities; stocks of merchandizing companies especially of the chain stores; and stocks of the public utilities serving small cities of the Central West and South.

Longacre, formerly connected with the Ingersoll-Rand Company at New York, came here 15 years ago from Yonkers, N. Y. Funeral services will be held here today. Burial will be at Valhalla, N. Y.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Talked with Benson Miller the other day, about Kingston High School from which we graduated about the same time. He also gave me a postal card of "Dr. Sahler's Park," where the new school will be built now. Remember the park with hammocks and swings and the orchestra playing there on summer evenings?

The other evening I spent a very pleasant two hours with Myron Teller, at 212 Fair street architect of many of our famous buildings. He invited me to his attic where he was asserting his books and papers as he intends to move from a 10-room home into a 5-room. He loaned me many exciting historical items from 1700 up from which will quote from time to time. I am sorry that attics are going out of fashion, its the most thrilling part of the house to me, for there are collected items of special interest. As years go by they are forgotten, sometimes they are hidden that way for half a century and then when re-discovered they are much more fun looking over than watching a modern television show, to me anyway. When I was little and lived in Port Ewen, it was always a special treat to me, when my grandmother allowed me to follow her to the attic and she jangled the big bunch of keys to this and that basket.

One of the items Mr. Teller loaned me was "Greater Kingston," illustrated and compiled by the National Illustrating Co. of Kinderhook N. Y. by W. S. Kline, Mgr. issued under the auspices of the Kingston Board of Trade in 1909. Many of the views I have never seen before.

There is a view of the City Hall before the fire. Wall street east from Front street, in the days when merchandise was displayed on the sidewalks. Mohican Co. market display can be seen. Remember when the Clinton Hotel corner Fair and North Front streets, was where the Herzog display rooms are today. It was owned by Cora Van Buren. Rates were $1.50 per day. They said "The hotel is an old one, having been established here for 20 years. It can accommodate about 50 guests and its rooms are well lighted and heated. In connection with the hotel is a first-class bar, well supplied with a stock of the most appetizing beverages and ably tended by experienced bartenders. The management of this hotel has been changed within the year; Miss Cora Van Buren, who was formerly with the Van Buren House, is the proprietor, and she is proving herself to be a good business woman well fitted for the hotel business, 15 are employed."

There is an excellent photo of Rondout Creek from the West Shore R.R. Bridge before the Rondout Creek Bridge was dreamed of. The good old Kingston Academy with flagpole in school yard. The Kingston City Hospital before the fire, when she stood high up on a terrace and had stone steps on the side. Remember? There is also a photo of The Strand from Broadway, when the peanut man had his wagon there, and the street-sweeper in the center of the road, between the horses and buggies John street from Fair street before the Stuyvesant Hotel was built, in the good old Opera House days. Hasbrouck avenue from Ferry street in the days of the Skilypot, when each corner had a flourishing retail store. Junction of the Strand and Ferry street and Capt. G. Fischer's sign and Transport Hotel sign can easily be seen. Ruth Colavecchio Weds James DeCicco At St. Mary's Church

MRS. JAMES DECICCO (Pennington Photo)

The wedding of Miss Ruth Helen Colavecchio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Colavecchio of Rosendale, to James Joseph DeCicco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCicco of 2 Kingston street, was performed July 16 at 2 p. m. at St. Mary's Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury.

Miss Nan Goldrick was the organist and played traditional wedding music. The church was decorated with roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a hoop-skirted gown of white nylon marquisette trimmed with Chantilly lace ruffles, seed pearl crown and a five-yard train trimmed with Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Rose Colavecchio, twin-sister of the bride as maid of honor, wore a Nile green net with hoop-skirt, matching mitts and a sweetheart hat. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids were Louise DeCicco, sister of the groom; and Jacqueline Waples. Their gowns were yellow and blue marquisette with hoop-skirt, matching mitts and hat. Each carried a cascade of red roses.

John DeCicco, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were William Mayhew and Joseph Bernice. Following a wedding dinner for 100 guests at Tommie's Tavern the couple left for a wedding trip to New York. For traveling she chose an aqua dotted Swiss two-piece dress and white accessories. They will make their future home at 2 Kingston street.

Mrs. DeCicco is a graduate of the Rosendale Union School and attended Kingston High School. She is employed at the Hillside Manufacturing Co.

The groom is a graduate of St. Mary's Parochial School and attended Kingston High School. He is employed at the Skyline Manufacturing Co.

Berkshire Center Will Present Two Music Premieres

Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass., July 20 — Amateur musicians at the Berkshire Music Center will perform the world premieres of two works at concerts July 24 and August 7. Howard Shuman, assistant to Dr. Serge Koussevitzky and conductor of the 50-piece orchestra of Department Five, said that both works had been written for presentation by his group. The first concert by this student orchestra will be performed at Tanglewood July 24, and will feature the first performance of "The Simon's version" for voice and orchestra of Moussorgsky's "Songs and Dances of Death." Manfred Hecht, who will sing the title role in Jacques Ibert's "Le Roi d'Yvetot" at Tanglewood a week later, will be the baritone. The Moussorgsky text was translated from the Russian by Maria de Pasquale, niece of Dr. Koussevitzky, and by Alfred Weiss, a student in the libretto-writing department. Beethoven's Egmont Overture and Douglas Moore's Symphony in A will round out the program Mr. Moore, a professor at Columbia University, has been invited to attend, and is expected to be present.

The concert on August 7, again under Shuman's direction, will feature "Music for Strings" by Manuel Mahler-Kalkstein. This piece was earmarked for a Tanglewood unveiling by its Israeli composer last year. Handel's Royal Fireworks Music, Hindemith's Morning Music, a toccata by Bonelli, and Brahms' Second Symphony will complete the program.

These two concerts, as are all events at Tanglewood, are open to the friends of the Berkshire Music Center, and will be held in the Music Shed at 4:30 p. m.

Good Taste Today by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

RESTAURANT ETIQUETTE A letter questions my advice that when a headwaiter shows a lady and gentleman to their places, the lady follows the headwaiter. Obviously, it is "the gentleman" who writes: "It is the gentleman who is making the arrangements, ordering the meal, etc., on such occasions. He also selects the table. He is the master of the ceremony, as it were, in a public place; therefore why should he fall behind?"

Answering Family Invitations Dear Mrs. Post: Should relatives and close friends send the usual formally worded replies to wedding invitations? Wouldn't a telephone call or a personal note be more suitable?

Answer: Under the circumstances such a reply is most suitable. White Suits in Big City Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think that young men might be permitted to wear white summer suits at a late afternoon wedding in the chapel of a rather fashionable big city church? The bride, her two bridesmaids and honor attendant are wearing typical bridal dresses but the wedding will be simple. The men are against clothes that will be insufferable on a midsummer day.

Answer: If they can be kept spotless (which is the chief objection to all white in a big city) they would be acceptable during the hottest weather. However, as I believe any Navy man would tell you, they are not as cool as they look. Plain dark business suits in a comfortable tropical worsted would be a better choice for both reasons.

New Doctor in the Family Dear Mrs. Post: (1) My nephew is a newly practicing physician in this town. Of course we will call him "John" but we wondered if now we should call him "Doctor" so that people will know what his profession is? (2) How should he be introduced to strangers?

Answer: (1) You call him whatever you always have. (2) Introduce him as "This is my nephew John who is a new doctor in town." Or, "This is my nephew, Dr. Jones."

Personal Notes

Anne Donovan Weds Francis Mulligan, Jr., Research Chemist, at St. Joseph's Church

Miss Anne Veronica Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Donovan of 30 Warren street, became the bride of Francis J. Mulligan, Jr., son of the Hon. and Mrs. Francis J. Mulligan, Sr., of 301 East 21st street, New York City, July 15 at St. Joseph's Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly. A nuptial Mass followed.

The church was decorated with white snow balls and pink roses. Mrs. Frank W. Rafferty was the organist and Virginia Mancuso sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a Chantilly lace bodice and a satin jewel neckline outlined with handmade satin rosettes, outions extending the length of the long waist, a train and long pointed sleeves. Her full length veil of imported Belgian lace with scalloped edge fell from a Chantilly lace helmet cap. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book with streamers trimmed with lily of the valley.

Bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Rafferty, Miss Betty McManus, Miss Margaret Leary of Kingston, and Miss Katherine Arlotti of Brooklyn, classmates of the bride.

Raymond Walsh of New York, classmate of the groom, was the best man. Ushers were Frank Fonseca, Donald Murray, Robert Murray and William Clements. After a reception at the Hotel Stuyvesant for 110 guests the couple went by airplane to Canada for their wedding trip. For traveling she chose a navy blue crepe dress with white and navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan, Jr. will make their home in New York where Mr. Mulligan is employed as a research chemist.

Mrs. Mulligan, Jr., attended St. Ursula's Academy and received her B.A. degree from St. Joseph's College for Women in Brooklyn. She was employed as secretary at the Schuyler Copper Advertising Agency, Inc. in New York City. The groom attended Fordham Preparatory in New York and received his B.S. degree from Fordham University in chemistry. He was formerly connected with the U. S. occupation forces and worked as a chemist for the Korean National Police.

County Safety Council Will Meet Monday Night

The regular meeting of the Ulster County Council will be held Monday, July 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the Rod Cross Headquarters, 308 Clinton avenue. Girl Scout News

Camp Wendy News
The following Ulster county girls have returned to their homes after spending two weeks at Camp Wendy, Wallkill:

Marjorie Davis, Michaela Fallon, Drusilla Freer, Linda Gunzelmann, Ann Hornbeck, Joyce Winne, Gayle Keator, Patricia Leary, Sharon Farnett, Nancy Silvestri, Bonnie Strieter and Judy Van Brimmer, Kingston; Sandra Marcus, Sandra Schupp, Elmerville; Maureen Aldorf, Margaret Campbell, Sally Lane, Diane Richards, Elaine Richards, New Paltz; Joanne Betten, Mary Ann Benson, Joan Filkins, Joanne Gruber, Eugene Judge, Highland; Betty and Virginia Cooper, Wallkill; Elizabeth and Joanne Lee and Donna Rieley, Woodstock; Eighteen Brownies, 22 Indians, 19 "Greenwooders," 16 Pioneers and 17 "Jungleties" were greeted July 2 after which an interesting program got underway by the Camp Wendy staff, sponsored by the Ulster County Girl Scout Council.

Early in the period, a Camp Council was formed and members from each unit were selected by their co-campers to serve. Original ideas and plans were discussed at these meetings out of which emerged the Independence Day celebration and the nature carnival.

On July 4 the individual units held campfires followed by a parade complete with "Fire and Drum Corps" Drum Majorettes. The parade ended at the Indian campfire circle where each unit added to an interesting program with skits, readings and patriotic songs.

The second camper planned activity was the nature carnival. Booths were planned by each unit for various games and contests including weight guessing, acorn pitching, refreshments and ball throwing. Tickets into each concession were certain nature materials decided upon by each unit. A lively program followed in which counselors and campers participated. Recognition of badge work done in camp was given to 41 girls of the three camper units. The senior scout unit planned and participated in a two-day trip to Lake Minnewaska. Each scout hiked part of the distance from the camp to the lake. While on the trip, the girls slept and prepared their meals out of doors. Hiking, exploring and swimming also were enjoyed while on the trip.

The full program of swimming and boating was enjoyed by all girls on the camp's private lake.

Although much of the time spent at camp was greeted with inclement weather, the weather offered new program possibilities including work in the spacious arts and crafts building where campers created plastic and acorn jewelry, modeled in clay, painted in water color, poster paint and finger paint. Campers also practiced knots and received instruction in wood craft and jashing.

General Walker Stops Korean Infiltration
Tokyo, July 21 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Walton H. Walker, the top American commander in Korea, was credited today by headquarters with reducing the North Korean infiltration threat.

The ability of the Communists to filter through and around American lines has raised havoc with American attempts to establish stable defense positions. Walker has declined to give details of his anti-infiltration tactics, but headquarters communiques said "he has been unable to conceal his pleasure with the results achieved."

The Reds have been moving around behind the American lines disguised as farmers and refugees. Once in position they take out campers hidden in their clothing or bundles and attack American troops from the side and rear.

"While not yet completely halted," the communiques said, "Red infiltration has been reduced to manageable proportions and can in short order be expected to approach zero."

Ulster Park Accident

Two cars proceeding southerly Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock collided on Highway 9W at Ulster Park. State police from Highland were called to investigate and reported a car operated by Louis Fox of Chicago and a car of John Hart of Elmsford were in collision. There were no injuries to passengers. The cars were taken to the Fox car a 1950 Hudson was proceeding on the right lane when it was struck from the rear by the Hart car. There was no arrest.

Stimson 'Good'

New York, July 21 (AP)—Former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, whose fractured left thigh was set Wednesday, was reported today to be in "as good a condition as can be expected." Stimson, who will be 83 in September, fractured the thigh in a fall last Sunday. The break occurred in the femur, the large thigh bone that runs from the hip to the knee. His physician said that the former war secretary withstood the setting operation extremely well.

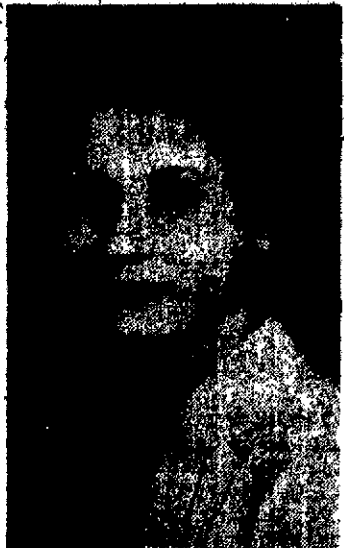

Transient Jailed

Theodore Krasicki, 36, a transient, was arrested near the state police barracks at Highland yesterday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. Troopers report the man was wandering over the highway. Justice of the Peace Albert Lete of town of Lloyd imposed a five-day jail sentence.

D.A.'s Clerk Dies

New York, July 21 (AP)—Charles F. Brodie, 53, chief clerk of the Bronx district attorney's office for 19 years, died today. Before his appointment to the district attorney's office, Brodie was a reporter for the New York Journal and the New York Evening World.

Engagement

Pennington Photo

MISS ANNE M. BRUNO
Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Bruno of 225 Flatbush avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne M. Bruno, to Victor C. Pennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pennington, of the late William C. Pennington, North Carolina.

Miss Bruno is a graduate of Kingston High School and the Moravian School in Bethlehem, Pa. She is now completing studies for an electrical engineering degree at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.

Mr. C. O. Pennington graduated from North Carolina State University and high schools and attended Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, N. C. During World War 2 he served for three and a half years with the Army Air Force, most of which was spent over the Pacific Theatre of war. He is now completing studies for an electrical engineering degree at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.

The couple plan a late fall wedding.

Local Death Record

Oscar Markle, 58, lifelong resident of Mettuchton, died Thursday night at the Kingston Hospital. He is survived by his wife, Pernie Gray Markle. Funeral services will be held from the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kingston, Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the family plot in Whitfield Cemetery.

The funeral of Mary Jane DeWitt was held from the Napanoch Reformed Church Thursday at 2 p. m. Services were conducted by the Rev. Edward M. Mearns of the Port Jervis Reformed Church and the Rev. William C. Coomb of Ellenville. Services were largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes. Bearers were Floyd Furman, Rutherford Thompson, Milton Townsend and Milton Schoonmaker. Burial took place in the family plot in the Kenskill Cemetery, near Ellenville.

Funeral services for Max Kaplan, 3 Schuyler Court, were held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the home, 298 Fair Street, Thursday afternoon with the Rev. Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom officiating. Services were largely attended by his many relatives, friends, associates of the United States Internal Revenue Department and representatives of city and county offices. Wednesday evening Kingston Lodge No. 550, E.P.C. held the funeral home and held ritualistic services which were conducted by James E. Connelly, exalted ruler. Wiltwyck Rose Co. No. 1, led by Chief Joseph L. Murphy and William Kelly, president, visited the funeral home to pay last respects to their deceased member. During the day the body remained at the funeral home, hundreds called to offer their condolences to the bereaved family. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. Bearers were Phillip McDonald, John J. Scully, Morton Finch, John Campbell, Edward McCooey and Gerald O'Neil, all employees of the Internal Revenue Department. Burial was in the Montrose Cemetery.

Charles Schoeps of Lucas avenue extension died Thursday at the home following an illness of four months. He was born in Union City, N. J., moving to the Town of Hurley 22 years ago. He was a steam fitter by trade working as contractor in this locality. He was a member of Local 223, Plumber and Steamfitters Union and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was a veteran of World War 1 serving with the A.E.F. Mr. Schoeps also was a member of the Hurley Reformed Church. Besides his wife, Winifred Friery Schoeps he is survived by a son, Charles A. Schoeps, Kingston; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Mowle, Creek Locks; Mrs. Marie E. Schoeps, at home; a sister, Mrs. Jacob C. Gunther, Kingston. One grandchild also survives. Funeral services will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday at 8 p. m. The funeral will be held from William Schlemm, Inc., 2200 Boulevard, Union City, N. J., Monday at 11 a. m. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery, Union City, N. J. Friends may call any time at the funeral home.

Woman Is Injured

Sarah Schmidt, 259 Smith avenue, suffered an injury of the right leg when her car and one operated by Vincent J. Andretta, 160 N. Manor avenue, and owned by Colonial Carriers, Inc., 62-68 TenBroeck avenue, were in collision at Elmendorf street and TenBroeck avenue yesterday. The police report by Officer Frank Sammons at 3:10 p. m., said the Schmidt coupe was headed east on Elmendorf street and the other car was going north on TenBroeck avenue.

New Salve Aids Cancers of Breast

Paris, July 21 (AP)—A potent new salve has made some breast cancers disappear, Dr. Hans Lettice of Heidelberg, reported today.

The salve is a new chemical, a kind of the drug colchicine, made from the autumn crocus plant. The new cousin of colchicine is 10 times more potent, Lettice told the Fifth International Cancer Research Congress, which closes today.

Some breast cancers treated with the new drug disappeared and had not returned three years later, Dr. Lettice said. But because they still might return, they could not be considered cured, he added.

Lettice, from the Institute for Experimental Cancer Research at Heidelberg, said the colchicine chemical has been used since 1942 on 30 women with breast cancer. Results on most, however, were not known because he had lost track of them during the war.

The new drug, N-Methyl-Colchicine, stops cancer cells from dividing or reproducing if it catches them at the middle phase of this activity, he explained.

Laboratory studies have showed the drug is not effective if it reaches living cells before or after that critical time.

Sending a slight electric current through the tumor after the salve is applied makes the drug enter deeper into the cancer, he said. This same effect was noted with other drugs.

Colchicine and its new cousin are poisonous drugs with bad effects on healthy tissues as well as on cancerous ones. Both have to be used cautiously.

The drug must be used for long periods of time to get good results in halting cancer growth, Lettice said.

Found 6 Miles Away

New York, July 21 (AP)—Police are trying to figure out how three-year-old Anthony Chelaputa managed to get to Jersey City yesterday, also where his mother lost him. They are investigating the possibilities of kidnapping. The boy wandered off from his mother, Mrs. Mary Chelaputa, 30, in a lower East Side Park. He was found later crying in a busy section of Jersey City. When police tried to find out how he crossed the Hudson river he simply answered "I don't know" and all questions. His mother was treated at a hospital for hysteria and shock.

Flights of Saucers

West Milford, N. J., July 21 (AP)—Flying saucers—whole flights of them moving in formation—were reported over New Jersey today. Lester E. Titus, Jr., of Moccasin Road, said he first saw them Wednesday night moving south in groups of four along the eastern horizon. Last night he called in two friends to watch with him. He said all three saw them again along the eastern horizon at midnight. Local police said it was all news to them—and "probably just Jersey mosquitoes."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 21 (AP)—The position of the Treasury July 19: Net budget receipts $143,881,853; budget expenditures $113,853,553; cash balance $4,862,442,160; customs receipts for month $2,887,524.54; budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $1,217,788,148.93; budget expenditures fiscal year $1,584,183,125.06; budget deficit $366,394,980.13; total debt $257,169,332,872.90; increase over previous day $3,378,298.48; gold assets $24,207,055,762.47.

Has New York Office

The John A. Cole, Inc., real estate brokers, of 19 Crown street, announced today the opening of a branch office in New York City at 304 Seventh avenue. In announcing the second office, John A. Cole stated that the metropolitan office would be staffed by Harry Flaklin and Salvatore Aprea, both veteran real estate brokers.

Haircuts, Shaves Go Up

Toledo, O., July 21 (AP)—Haircut prices here jumped today from $1 to $1.25 and shaves from 50 to 75 cents. Barber said it was necessary because of higher overhead and decreased value of the dollar.

Security Forces

the parade. The Communists also told their followers to turn out. The Socialist newspaper Le Peuple fired the opening blast of the parade. It continued defiance against Leopold by running on its front pages wartime pictures of the king chatting with German generals.

Remember Surrender

One of the reasons for Leopold's unpopularity in many circles was his surrender to the Germans after only 18 days of fighting in 1940.

At the big royal palace in the center of the city Prince Charles, the former regent, waited to receive both pro and anti-Leopold delegations to thank him for his services to the nation over the past six years. His regency ended last night and he did not plan to take any part in the day's ceremonies.

In almost all political circles the opinion prevailed that Leopold would return only temporarily to delegate his powers to his son, 18-year-old Crown Prince Baudouin. The king had offered to take such action previously in an effort to solve the long crisis over his return.

The president of the lower House, Franz Van Cauwelaert, Senate President Paul Struelens and Prime Minister Jean Duvieusart were flying today to Pregny, Switzerland, to inform the king officially of Parliament's decision yesterday to return him to the throne.

The officials may bring Leopold and Baudouin back to Belgium tomorrow.

Late Bulletins

Washington, July 21 (AP)—The army announced today it is calling "non-divisional" units of both the National Guard and reserves to active duty.

The announcement said that the army does not contemplate at this time calling units the size of a division.

"The Department of the Army is in the process of progressively calling non-divisional elements of both National Guard and reserves to active duty as the need arises . . ."

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 21 (AP)—Stock traders didn't have very clear-cut ideas on the subject of prices today.

Despite heavy trading, the market generally showed comparatively little movement.

At the opening a slight upward tendency was apparent. This soon disappeared and the market slowly settled back. Toward midday the market reversed itself again and started a slow climb.

Changes either way were mostly less than $1 a share.

The advance nearly chopped in half the severe losses taken after our intervention in Korea at the end of June.

24th Division

established Wednesday by the First Cavalry Division (mechanized).

Progress of the First Cavalry and the 25th Infantry Divisions—which landed earlier this week—was not reported by General MacArthur's communiques.

No Special Significance
General MacArthur said the loss of Taejon has "no special significance" from the military point of view. Advanced American headquarters and the provisional government of South Korea had moved from the city several days ago.

The new U. S. front on higher ground is a better location for fighting a delaying action, MacArthur said in a communique.

The United Nations commander said "heavy infiltration tactics by guerrillas who outflanked the American army units, and coordinating infantry-tank assaults forced the withdrawal."

A spokesman at Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said the withdrawal was "planned" and "not a precipitous flight."

No word was received of Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the troops fighting the bitter Taejon delaying action. He was last reported yesterday, passing ammunition to a bazooka team that was firing at Red tanks inside Taejon.

Yongdok was destroyed by gunfire from two cruisers, one American and one British. One American knocked out Wednesday evening and night.

Vice Adm. Charles T. Joy, commander of naval forces in the Far East, said the cruisers' guns started large fires in the Red-occupied town with smoke still visible from the ships after 12 hours.

May Be Objective

Yongdok may be an objective of the First Cavalry Division. Bad weather hampered Allied action, but more than 100 sorties were flown. U. S. F-50 jets shot down two Yak-9 fighters near Taejon. Three Red planes were knocked down there yesterday.

Superforts roamed again over North Korea and dropped more than 180 tons of high explosives on five major targets—airfields and bridges.

Yak planes attacked B-29s near Seoul but were driven off by the bombers' gunners. Two challenging fighters appeared damaged. Two B-29s were damaged—one in the air battle and the other by flak—in the Seoul area, but both returned safely.

F-50 Yak fighters hit at U. S. B-29 near Taejon and both were shot down.

MacArthur's communique said a South Korean regiment on the central front recaptured Yechon, 40 miles north of the main U. S. supply line from Pusan.

Other South Korean units pushed to the outskirts of Punggi, 15 miles northeast of Yechon. In flat, open country south of west of Taejon, the Reds were reported building for a drive at the American flank. They were at Nonsan, 20 miles southwest of Taejon, but MacArthur said Air Force tactical attacks probably can "prevent this development from becoming a serious threat."

The general said in another communique that the one serious problem of enemy infiltration has been reduced to "manageable proportions" and soon may become unimportant.

How this is done is a secret. But the method is working so smoothly that Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, "has been unable to conceal his pleasure with the results achieved."

made it plain they would not sit quietly if the Republicans cut loose today.

Yesterday's row got started when Wherry tried to block filing of the Democrats' report castigating McCarthy. That effort failed, 45 to 37, on a straight party line vote. The Republicans tried twice to send the hotly disputed report back to committee. The first attempt lost on a 46 to 37 vote; the second was defeated 43 to 31. On both of those votes, too, the Democrats were all on one side and the Republicans on the other.

Was Only Beginning

That, it turned out, was only the beginning. Wherry complained that the Democrats on the inquiry committee, in their report, had quoted Emmanuel S. Larsen—a key figure in the 1945 Amerasia Secret Documents case—as saying Wherry told him:

"Wherry (MacCarthy) got himself shot on a limb and now we have to back him up."

Wherry angrily denied he ever made such a remark—and then the Senate took time out to read out absent Senators.

During the lull, Wherry walked over to former F.B.I. Agent Edward F. Morgan, chief counsel of the investigating committee, who had been sitting next to Tydings.

Wherry, a fiery man, when aroused, and Morgan—husky and broader than six feet tall—engaged in argument and then left the chamber. Just outside, witnesses said, the exchange grew noisy.

Some of those present said blows were struck. Others said it was all angry talk. Wherry said about on a limb and now we have to back him up. Morgan kept his version to himself, but he did tell a reporter later that Wherry called him a name.

"It indicated my mother would bite a bone," Morgan declared.

Motion Is Rejected
When the session resumed, Wherry moved that Morgan be ejected from the Senate. The Senate rejected Wherry's motion, 43 to 31.

The photograph that wasn't played was brought into the Senate by Tydings. He said he wanted his colleagues to listen to a recording of a speech which McCarthy made in Wheeling, W. Va., last February.

The recording, said Tydings, would show that McCarthy said in Wheeling that he had the names of 205 Communists in the State Department. Tydings said McCarthy later denied having made such a statement.

Wherry objected to the record. He said it would be all right to play it outside the chamber, but said Senate rules made no provision for that kind of performance inside.

Wherry withdrew the request. Tydings snapped. "Adding," he will play this record off the Senate chamber in due time. But admission will be by card only.

McCarthy, who was present but took no part in the Senate scrap, told newsmen later he would give anyone 100 to 1 odds that the recording would not disclose him to have used the figure 205 in the way Tydings said it would.

Proposals Weighed
As the fighting services speeded plans to expand their strength to the full 2,005,882-man limit authorized by Congress, the House and Senate Armed Services Committees weighed proposals to lift that ceiling in response to a request from President Truman.

Colonials Announce Sale of Frank Merola, Tony Piacente to Geneva

Hard Throwing Outfielder Goes To Class C Loop

Rain Washes Out Philly Star Game

While the day long rains washed out a boxoffice bonanza between the Colonials and the Philadelphia Stars last night at municipal stadium, club officials announced the sale of outfielder Frank Merola and pitcher, Tony Piacente to the Geneva club of the Class C Border League.

The Colonials are scheduled to meet the New York Fire Department in the first independent attraction of the season Saturday night at the stadium.

Last night's washout not only was a blow in the box office but also may cost the Colonials a pretty penny, in the proposed "package deal" with the Cincinnati Reds.

Red Scout Here
Chief scout Frank O'Rourke of the Redford farm system came up from New York to inspect pitchers Johnny Manopoli and Artie Applebaum; catcher Rudy Karsen and outfielder-infielder Charlie Aspromonte.

O'Rourke and Colonial officials had dinner together and talked terms but O'Rourke was steadfast in his desire to see the players under fire before making an offer.

The Colonials did the next best thing and arranged an intra-squad workout this morning at 9:30 o'clock at municipal stadium. O'Rourke hinted he would be in a position to make some kind of offer after the workout, since he did not intend to return to Kingston for Saturday night's game with the Firemen.

Good Prospects
Merola and Piacente will join the Geneva club after Saturday's game. The Westchester county outfielder is classified as a veteran in organized ball, having spent a couple of seasons in Class D and C ball.

Merola proved a streaky but solid hitter and had one of the best throwing arms in the Colonial League. He is a natural right fielder who should do extremely well in the Border circuit.

Colonial fans got only fleeting glimpses of pint-sized Tony Piacente, a southpaw rookie who broke in with a flourish by winning his first game on the road. In his second start he was unable to finish because of wildness. A courageous kid who throws hard all the time, Piacente appears likely to make the grade.

Club president Addison Jones said he expected to have the Colonial roster trimmed down by Saturday night and all likely prospects for advancement in organized baseball will have been placed by that time.

50-Lap Feature Set at Rhinebeck

The second straight 50-lap feature will be run Saturday night at the Rhinebeck Speedway, with top drivers in the east competing for the cash prizes and point totals.

With extra money going into the long grind, drivers will practically tear Rhinebeck apart trying to qualify from heats into the semi-finals and then in the main event.

Neil Cole, New Jersey state champion who was unable to compete last week, will be on hand Saturday to vie with Jocko Magliacomo, Ray Brown, Stan Distrow and others.

Larry Shurter, the West Shokan daredevil, has been closing the point-standing gap very fast in the past few races and is now in fourth spot. A win this Saturday would put the popular Ulster county driver within reaching distance of Magliacomo, the current point leader.

Upland First

Westbury, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Upland, a three-year-old bay colt, won his fifth race of the season last night at Roosevelt Raceway, defeating Nat Hanover by half a length in the Huntington Pace. Flying Gal was third. The winner, driven by Ben Turfington and owned by Frances Killmon of Keller, Va., paid $7.30, $4.40 and $3 and was timed in 2:06 for the mile.

Major League Roundup

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Shades of 1914 Can Luke Sewell perform a miracle at Cincinnati?

You have to stretch a point to call seventh-place Cincinnati, 11½ games out of first, a pennant factor but you can tip your hat to Sewell for the Red revival. The man who led the St. Louis Browns to their only pennant doesn't quit.

Last by 17 lengths June 24, the Reds may not qualify as the 1950 miracle team but they sure are the Dodger-killers. If Branch Rickey muffs the pennant, he can blame Cincy.

The sizzling Reds polished off the ambitious Brooks last night in both ends of a two-light doubleheader, 3-1 and 6-2. That made it eight out of 11 over the Dodgers this season and 19 wins in their last 25 starts. Or, if you prefer, 21 of 29.

Pitchers Excel

Kenny Ruffenberger's cunning control stuff silenced the Browns in the opener despite Don Newcombe's five-hitter. Then Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell struck out nine in a sizzling night performance. Neither Cincy pitcher walked a man.

Ted Klusowski was the big man of the first game. He fired an innu single drove in one of two Cincy runs and his 17th homer in the sixth added the last.

Blackwell bested young Chris Van Cuyk, a sensational winner in his only previous big league start. Van Cuyk left with the score tied, 2-2, and two men on in the seventh.

Joe Landrum walked the bases full. Then Landrum took Bobby Usher's roller and threw to catcher Bruce Edwards, who let the ball get past him for a two-run error. Joe Adcock singled home the other two.

As a result, the Dodgers are three full games back of St. Louis and Cincy is only a half-game back of the sixth place New York Giants.

Giants Rebound

While Cincinnati lowered the boom on Brooklyn, the New York Giants bounced back to smother St. Louis, 15-3. The loss didn't cost the Cardinals the lead but narrowed their advantage over Boston and Philadelphia to a single game.

The rained-out Braves didn't have a chance to gain and the Phillies missed their opportunity, bowing to Pittsburgh, 10-8, in a slugfest that lasted almost three hours. Ted Beard, Gus Bell and Danny O'Connor each had three hits in the 16-hit attack.

Despite homers by Dick Sisler, Granny Hamner and Del Ennis, Pittsburgh struggled home to win for reliever Murry Dickson. Ralph Kiner's 27th homer off Russ Meyer in the eighth helped nail it down.

Leo Duocher's Giants really got revenge for the 18-4 and 10-3 beatings of Wednesday as they piled it up against the Cardinals with an eight-run third inning. Dave Koslo, a non-winner since June 29, capped his ninth with a nine-hitter. Five double plays and 16 Giant hits, including three by Don Mueller, made it easy.

Everybody closed in on the Detroit Tiger yesterday when they lost to Boston, 6-5, in 11 innings. The runnerup New York Yankees, not scheduled to play gained a half game Cleveland and Boston each picked up a full game.

Dom DiMaggio's double off Art Houtteman scored Billy Goodman with the winning Red Sox run to cap an uphill struggle. Detroit did all its scoring off Walt Masterson before he was knocked out in the fourth inning. After that Chuck Stobbs and Ellis Kinder pitched excellent relief ball. Pat Mullin bashed an inside-the-park homer for Detroit with a man on in the third and Walt Dippo hit his 24th for the Red Sox in the fourth.

The Sox pulled within one of a tie on Bobby Doerr's 13th homer in the eighth and evened matters in the ninth on two walks and Vern Stephens' single.

Sam Zoldak and Bob Kennedy teamed up on Philadelphia for Cleveland's 3-2 victory in 11 innings. As a result, the Tribe is only 4½ games back of Detroit.

Have Good Record

Pitcher Jim McKeough is an eight-year veteran with previous experience with the Cincinnati Reds and in the last Northern League.

The Firemen are old rivals of Manager Emil Gall, who faced them many times when he was first string catcher with the Bushwicks.

The Colonial skipper has not revealed pitching plans for Saturday but it appears likely that he will throw Johnny Manopoli, Artie Applebaum and Bill McKever in three-inning stints.

McKever pulled up with a lame arm against the Albany Senators last Saturday but the injury wasn't serious and he has been throwing hard all week.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Batting—Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox—doubled off Art Houtteman in 11th to score Billy Goodman with winning run over Tigers, 6-3.

Pitching—Ken Ruffenberger and Ewell Blackwell, Reds—Ruffenberger whipped Don Newcombe in 3-1 opener and Blackwell bested Chris Van Cuyk 6-2 for clean sweep over Brooklyn. Neither pitcher walked a man. Ruffenberger fanned four and Blacky nine.

Heavy Entries For AAU Swimming

Entries from almost every city and town in the jurisdiction of the Adirondack Association of the A.A.U. have been pledged for the first Junior Outdoor District swimming championships at Sportsman's Park, Rosendale, on Sunday, Elio Orfeo Cenci reported today.

The championship meet involving 50-yard breast stroke and backstroke races for boys and girls is the first of its kind ever sanctioned by the Adirondack group.

Harry Dutcher, of Oneida, one of the top ranking A.A.U. officials, will be on hand to supervise the program.

Director Cenci said he had been assured of entries from Oneida, Utica, Gloversville, Saratoga, Lake Placid, Schenectady, Poughkeepsie, Albany, Troy, Hudson and all nearby points.

All entries are registered under the jurisdiction of the Adirondack A.A.U. and can be made up to noon the day of the races, Sunday, July 23.

The second in the series of Ulster county eliminations will follow the Adirondack events. During the intermission, Mary Redmond, Vic Carr and Lois Mallory will compete for vocal honors.

Proximity Nears All-Time Record

Saratoga, Springs, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—One more victory and Proximity will set an all-time earnings record for harness horses.

The eight-year-old mare's total stood today at $204,880—just $1,582 shy of the 73-year-old record set by Goldsmith Maid.

Proximity picked up $4,500 last night by winning the $10,000 Arden free-for-all on the Grand Circuit program at Saratoga Raceway. It was her 10th win of the 1950 season and her third straight victory in the Arden.

Proximity is scheduled to race next in the $15,000 Sportsman's Trot at Sportsman's Park, Chicago, July 28.

Clint Hodgkins got the mare off first from her outside post last night and held the lead all the way, trotting the mile in 2:03 4/5, despite a damp track.

Demon Hapwood was second, two lengths behind, and Chris Spencer was third.

The winner, owned by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst of Victor, N. Y., paid $2.60, $2.40 and $2.10.

Old Capital Tossers at Hawkins Stadium

The American Legion-Old Capital Motors junior baseball squad will compete in the Third District Tournament of county champions at Hawkins Stadium, Albany, on Thursday, July 27, state Legion baseball officials announced today.

The drawing for schedule paired the Kingston team against Hudson Post, Columbia county champions, in a seven-inning twilight affair at the home park of the Eastern League Senators.

Six counties will be represented in the Albany tournament, with the first round pairings pitting Sullivan vs Schoharie; Rensselaer vs Albany and Ulster vs Columbia.

In order that Schoharie County Legionnaires may see their county champions in action, the Schoharie-Sullivan county game has been assigned to the Cobleskill Fair grounds on the same date.

The Ulster-Columbia clash precedes a night clash between Amherst J. Scully Post, Albany county champions against Rensselaer county's representative, Melvin Road Post and Woodkill Post are locked in a hard fought playoff series to determine the Rensselaer representative.

Dick Connors of Troy Post is the Legion district baseball chairman, with Charles W. Crow as the tournament co-ordinator.

Cadillac May Build Tanks for Army; Still Put Out Cars

Detroit, July 21 (AP)—The army is negotiating with the Cadillac Division of General Motors for mass production of tanks.

Col. David J. Crawford, commander of the Detroit Arsenal, confirmed negotiations are under way and predicted a contract will be worked out within a few days. Col. Crawford declined to say what type tank Cadillac will build, but unconfirmed reports said it would be the new 28-ton light tank. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, has described it as "superior in maneuverability and operations to any type ever seen in warfare."

Cadillac was a major tank producer in World War 2. Cadillac is expected to reactivate a World War 2 plant, not now being used for car-making. The tank building program thus would not disturb its current high-level automobile production. The Detroit Arsenal itself is reported to be tooling up for production of two new tanks, one of them a top secret heavy tank of radical design.

Publishers Say Typos Use Unfair Practices

Cincinnati, July 21 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association has charged the A.F.L. International Typographical Union with unfair labor practices.

The charges were filed in the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board yesterday by Cranston Williams, general manager of the A.N.P.A. Besides the I.T.U., the international officers, including International President Woodruff Randolph, were named. The publishers association alleged the union refused to bargain, has used restraint and coercion and had demanded certain employees not previously covered by contract be so covered, said Jack Evans, regional N.L.R.B. director. One count claimed the union tried to force employees to accept the union as their bargaining agent and coerced locals into carrying out the mandates of the I.T.U.'s executive council.

No reference in the A.N.P.A. charges was made to varityper operators (employees who type news to be engraved). The reference to employees not previously covered could include varitypers, however.

Evans said the regional office will begin an investigation of the charges at once. The I.T.U. has its headquarters in Indianapolis and the A.N.P.A. in New York.

No Trace of Car Found

No trace of the 1935 Chevrolet car of Howard Kelly, Flatbush, has been obtained by the police since it was reported missing on July 15. The car bore license UL-6191. The loss of the car was reported to Sheriff George Smith on July 15, two days after Mr. Kelly had been involved in an incident at Broadway and Brewster street when he was taken suddenly ill. He was taken to the hospital and has no knowledge as to what happened to his car. Sheriff Smith and city police are investigating. Thursday Mrs. Kelly reported the car had not been recovered.

Nash Is Arrested

Joseph Francis Nash, 33, of 100 O'Neil street, was arrested by Detective William Krum yesterday on a warrant charging carnal abuse of a child. The case was adjourned until July 24 when Nash appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

MARION MORGAN

Marion Morgan, Hollywood's new singing personality whom film star Joan Crawford helped to fame, will appear in person at the Timberlane Dude Ranch and Country Club, East Jewett, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 28 to 30.

Currently the featured songstress on the ABC network's television program, "Stop the Music," Marion also is a Decca recording artist, her latest record, due for release next week, being "Teasin'" and "I'm Bashful."

Before coming to New York a few months ago, she was a sensation in Hollywood's night clubs as the protégée of Joan Crawford. Miss Morgan sang with Harry James and his orchestra three years.

Excelsiors Want To March Uptown

At a meeting of Excelsior Hose Company No. 4, held Thursday evening it was voted to participate in the parade on Saturday, July 29, the closing day of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's convention, provided the parade route includes the uptown business section. A final meeting will be held Monday evening at which final decisions will be made.

Excelsiors plan to have from 55 to 70 men in line, some 40 members of the Ladies Auxiliary and will be headed by the Father Harty 44 piece band of Saugerties and a fire apparatus.

Thursday the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association in response to a query as to whether they desired the parade to include the uptown business section, voted in favor of including the uptown section.

The convention will open Thursday evening with a dinner for the visiting firemen, Friday there will be the annual election of officers at the business meeting and on Saturday the convention will close with the big parade. The parade will form downtown and proceed uptown. After the parade the visitors will be entertained and refreshments served.

Less Gambling Now

Kansas City, July 21 (AP)—Did the Binaggio-Gargotta gangland slayings put the brakes on big-time gambling in Kansas City? Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), head of the Senate Crime Investigation Committee, says testimony taken during a two-day hearing here shows gambling operations are pretty well closed down now. But before the slayings last April 5 gambling operations were on a large scale then in St. Louis, he added. Charles Binaggio, North-side political leader and gambling figure, and Charles Gargotta, his henchman, were shot to death in their Democratic headquarters. Their slayings have not been solved. The Senate committee wound up its closed door hearings yesterday. Former associates of Binaggio and Gargotta were among those questioned.

Huhner Pays Fine

Frederick Huhner, 23, of 102 Livingston street, Saugerties, was arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Smith on a charge of passing a double white line on Route 9W at the West Shore Railroad overpass in the town of Ulster. Huhner, operator of a truck, was taken before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush and a $10 fine was imposed and paid.

Effective Bombing

Aboard Seventh Fleet Carrier Off Korea, July 19 (Delayed) (AP)—Pilots of carrier launched warplanes today reported indications of radar controlled anti-aircraft fire at Wansan. They just had bombed the big industrial port city in North Korea, about 80 air miles north of the 38th parallel. For two days U. S. and British navy jets, Corsairs and attack fighters bombers flew 227 sorties against North Korea targets. They knocked out 51 enemy planes, caused explosions and huge fires at a large oil refinery, and inflicted damage to industrial plants and communications.

George Dupes Foes With False Charity

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"Temper, temper!" said Generous George reprovingly. "You must remember that partners are human beings also — unlikely though it may seem."

"Not my partner," said East viciously. "It has been scientifically proven that my partner has the brains of a fish."

"Well," said Generous George in a conciliatory tone, "I'll let you have what you're after. I'll give you a club trick, and I'll let you lead a second trump at me."

The outburst had occurred when West led the king of diamonds as his opening lead. East overtook with the ace of diamonds, grumbling bitterly about stupid partners who couldn't understand the bidding. East then returned the queen of spades.

It was at this point that Generous George, playing the South hand, tried to pour oil on troubled waters. Instead of trying to ruff his clubs in dummy, he led the queen of clubs from his hand. When West played low, George discarded a diamond from dummy, allowing East to win the trick with the ace of clubs!

East looked as though he couldn't believe his good fortune as he returned the jack of spades. His aim, of course, was to draw as many as possible of dummy's trumps to prevent South from ruffing clubs in dummy.

George won with his remaining top trump and led the jack of clubs. West covered with the king of clubs, and dummy ruffed with dummy's nine of spades.

It didn't matter whether or not East over-ruffed. George's clubs were established, and East could take his high trump when he liked—but he could get no other trick. Incidentally, George had not really been generous when he let East won a club trick. If he had tried to ruff his clubs in dummy, he would have been set. He would make five trumps in his own hand and three trumps in dummy, for a total of nine tricks.

East had criticized his partner quite unjustly for the opening lead; no lead would have done any good. West's double of three clubs was, perhaps, more deserving of censure. It encouraged East to double four spades. Incidentally, North's jump to four spades was a bold but very fine bid. North had passed at his first turn and had much more playing strength than his partner had any reason to expect.

Korean Invasion Brutal Blow to World Peace

Washington, July 21 (AP)—A mass of evidence that the Korean crisis resulted from Communist aggression was spread on the record today in a new American official document.

The State Department issued a 68-page "White Paper" yesterday in which it denounced the North Korean invasion as "a brutal blow to the peace of the world."

Included in the evidence were the texts of 101 official documents bearing on the crisis. The document with the Soviet message sent July 11 to United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie, charging that the U.N. was serving as a "cloak" for "direct aggression" by the United States against the Korean people.

Included also were reports of the U.N. Commission on the scene which—by contrast with Communist propaganda—said the attack was a "well-planned, concerted, and full-scale invasion" and that the South Koreans were organized only for defense.

In an accompanying narrative of events leading up to the outbreak of fighting, the State Department blamed Russia for the long post war dispute over Korea.

Moscow, it said, established the North Korea regime which "lived as it was created, in complete defiance of the United Nations."

There was no direct charge, however, that Russia directed or sanctioned the actual invasion.

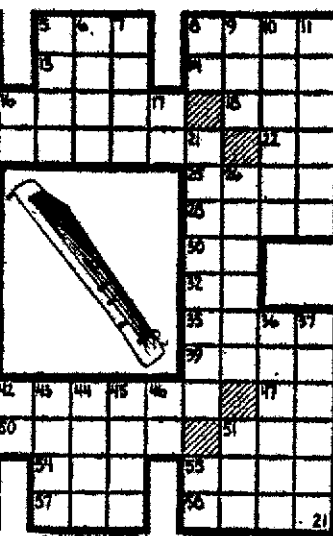

The chief source of the world's supply of amber is the Baltic coast of Germany, Lithuania and Latvia.

Blast Ammo Train

An American Air Base in Korea, July 21 (AP)—American Mustangs bombed and blew up a U. S. ammunition train in the Taejeon railway yards today—to prevent it falling into Red hands. Among the first air targets of the day, it showed quite clearly American troops were withdrawing or had withdrawn from the city. The yards are in the north sector. Capt. H. Moreland of Mobile, Ala., leader of the mission, said "The train blew sky high. It was like the Fourth of July." He said Taejeon looked very still and deserted.

Gold Back in Prison

Philadelphia, July 21 (AP)—Harry Gold, 39-year-old former Philadelphia research chemist, is back in prison cell today after pleading guilty to atomic spying on behalf of Soviet Russia. U. S. District Judge James P. Maguire delayed sentence pending an investigation by the federal probation office. The judge indicated that the sentence may be handed down in September. Gold, the first American formally to admit delivering atomic secrets to Russia, said the word "guilty" three times as he stood before the bench yesterday. His first answer was to the general charge of conspiracy to violate the Federal Espionage Act, his second to the 11 specific charges of spy acts and his third to a formal re-reading of the full indictment.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 21.—Mrs. Milton H. Ryan entertained the Downsville Garden club July 13 at her home, the Ashokan Methodist Church parsonage. Eleven members of the club enjoyed a luncheon followed by a social hour. Mrs. Ryan, during her husband's pastorate of the Downsville Methodist Church, was president of the Delaware county organization.

A fire at the workshop near Mrs. Earl Brundage's home in the west end of the village on Wednesday afternoon resulted in not much damage to the building. A bucket brigade passed up water from the nearby East Butternutkill to quench the flames. Men and trucks from the Olive Bridge and Ashokan fire companies responded to the alarm.

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Wednesday included the following out of town businessmen: Benjamin Schacter and M. C. Steier of Kingston, and Sol Balbo of Ellenville.

The historic Ridge road is in very poor condition for summer travel. The north end of this convenient cut-off between the Trail and the Ashokan mountain road is just one bump after another, while near the other terminus, along the Winchell woods, several rocks protrude above the shale paving. These mean old rocks by the way, are the same ones which have been popping up for generations because no town official has ever got around to blowing them out.

The Russian boardinghouse has around 50 summer guests. Not bad for a rainy season which according to some observers has cut resort business in the mountains down 50 per cent of normal for July.

Birthdays coming on soon include the following: Margaret Winchell, July 22; Arthur J. Bush of Brown's, next Monday, and Clarence Mason of the E. Lukacs place on Tuesday, July 25. Max Ruben and Ed Flynn, Broadway businessmen, were callers in the village center Tuesday morning.

Hay harvesting at the Rutherford farm in the Tonawanda neighborhood is being delayed by the reported indisposition of Jim Rutherford who handles the teaming end of the backhoe business. Farming activities here along the Trail, Charles and Marvin Greene have been unable to get any one to put in their several fields of stout hay. The bright weather of Wednesday prompted several farmers to lay down grass; they went to bed in cheerful mood on this starry night, only to look out in the cold grey dawn upon a pouring rain, (war jitters and bad weather—what a combination!).

Delaware county cauliflower growers have begun to add their quota to the busy trucking scene on the Ashokan Trail. An increase in west-bound hauling of cement building blocks is also noted by those who like to watch the passing traffic. Crushed stone, too, in considerable quantity, bound for the mountains these days.

Theodore "Teddy" Boice, Bayonne, N. J., young man, is paying his first visit to Shokan in several years. He is a grandson of Peter Boice who with his brother, Hewitt, as young men were set up in the store and tanning business at Sammonville by their father, Wm. V. Boice of Boiceville. The brothers later located in Kingston where the Boice Round Brook dock became a shipping point for Hewitt's extensive bluestone interests. Theodore on his grandmother's side is related to the Boiceville Weeks family and therefore to Mrs. Joseph (Jennie Weeks) Aitken, who for the past several years has been connected with French Hospital in New York. The young man on Wednesday took a trip to the site of the old Boice stone yard which is now occupied by a marine salvaging plant and was surprised to see the pilot house of the old Lackawanna ferryboat "Montclair" which as a boy he used to observe plying the harbor between 14th street and Hoboken.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stein and daughter, Gail Joy, of New York are visiting their relatives, Dr. A. Rottkov and wife of Ashokan. Mrs. Stein is the doctor's sister.

Monrovia, capital of Liberia, is named after U. S. President James Monroe.

The Miracle of America

The Miracle of America is ever before your eyes. Stand still and watch it with free enterprise.

The right to live as you please. To seek your fortune and secure life of ease.

No one to dictate, free as a bird. Wake when you wish, dine when you will. Of your pleasures have your fill.

Freedom as our heritage will we may enjoy. The manner of living as our choice. Seek your business in any manner. America, we do justice to your banner.

To know the treasure of the good earth. Freedom we have had since our birth. Free enterprise, what good fortune we mortals own.

The seeds of heaven we have sown. This miracle must never cease or fade. Its glow must continue to a brighter shade. America will continue her miraculous reign. With freedom knew in a stronger vein.

WALKILL

Walkill, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caswell, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crast, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Parham attended the Yankee-Chicago game at Yankee Stadium on Sunday.

Dinner guests on Sunday of Mrs. Viola Jensen were Mrs. Melba Rooks, Mrs. Louise Parham, Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Decker, and the Rev. Richard Hine, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bellarosa spent the week-end at Pine Bush with her aunt, Mrs. Aldah Billings.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Terwilliger have returned home after a vacation with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hill of Union, N. J. They also spent several days at Asbury Park, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mower and daughters, Barbara and Jeanne have returned home after a week's vacation at Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Prisco and daughters, Mary Ann and Barbara are spending two weeks with relatives and friends.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Conklin were Mrs. George Sohns, Blair Caswell, and Clifford Caswell, Jr.

Mrs. Charles Maley of Rosebush, Post 1034 of the Walkill American Legion Auxiliary was installed as president of the County Auxiliary on Thursday, July 13 at Woodstock. Before the meeting and installation a picnic supper was enjoyed. Those attending from Walkill were Mrs. Charles Maley, Mrs. C. H. McLean, Mrs. John Rook, Mrs. Walter Harris, Mrs. Samuel Lawson,

But the other side of the argument runs like this: The demand of the military for more steel, more copper, more zinc, more motor vehicles, more rubber and so on, comes at a time when some industries are already pushed to or beyond their capacity to keep up with present industrial demand. Increased production for war is bound to mean a slowdown in some consumer goods industries.

The steel industry, for example, fears that the present emergency may be used as an opening wedge for the government to get into the steel business by financing and running new steel mills.

Just a few hours before the President made his request for power to encourage expansion of plant capacity to make war essentials, the steel industry announced its own private plans to expand its capacity greatly. But steelmen admit that some form of allocation must come soon.

The textile industry also looks for the new defense budget to stimulate demand for its products for months, maybe years ahead. Part of the $10,000,000,000 will go into textiles and apparel for the increased military forces. And men at war use up textiles and clothing at a much faster rate than do men in peacetime jobs.

Industry spokesmen say the nation's textile capacity is sufficient, if properly used, to clothe both the military and the civilians. What this increase in demand will do to prices, however, is another matter.

Industrial production as a whole, however, is at a peacetime high. The Reserve Board's index stands at 197. Oil servers think the index will soon pass the 200 mark (the 1935-39 average is 100).

How the country is to handle all this new military stimulation and still keep inflation within bounds is the problem now.

tion of a smear imputing to him by insinuating a sympathy with "Fascist" groups.

Because I am convinced that Justice Jackson knows this to be true and because it is a more imminent menace to justice than the rude antics of Communist lawyers and the cries of pickets, I have to conclude that he isn't yet ready to take up for the loyal American as distinguished from the accused Communist. After all, those Communists were flagrantly guilty as charged and the disorders which may have caused prejudice against them were of their own contrivance. If they suffered from it that is too bad but their own fault and not the fault of the press or public. But in the other category of cases defendant is the victim of a plot to deny him a fair trial. Call him a "Fascist" and a "hate-monger" raise the proposition that it were blasphemy to criticize Roosevelt or to examine the ghastly doom pronounced on Christian and Jewish civilization at Yalta, and he goes into court with two strikes on him. This is Hitler's system of justice. This is the way to smear and destroy business rivals. This is the phase of trial by propaganda in the mob atmosphere that Justice Jackson should have had the civic courage to challenge.
